

*It didn't start with a factory.
It started with a feeling.*

In 1984, three lifelong friends, born in the same small Italian village, set out to build something they could stand behind. Not just furniture, but pieces that carried weight. Pieces that felt considered, crafted, and made to last.

They didn't have a roadmap.
They had standards.

A shared belief that details aren't small. That craftsmanship isn't optional. That if you're going to put your name on something, it should mean something.

That's how Borgo began.
Not as a company, but as a promise.

And all these years later, that promise still sits in every stitch, every seam, every space we help create.

From our village to yours.

Borgo means village.
But to us, it means something more.

There's a saying in Italy: it takes a village to raise a child.
We believe it takes a village to create something worth keeping.

Because nothing we make happens alone.
Not the first sketch. Not the final stitch. Not the moment it arrives in a space and finally feels right.

It's hands. It's voices. It's pride passed from one person to the next.

Every seam carries a decision.
Every frame carries intention.
Every piece carries a bit of all of us.

What starts at home travels far, into the spaces you design, the places people gather, the moments that matter.

This is our village.
And there's always room for one more.

Where Comfort Meets Conversation

At Borgo, we believe the best ideas don't always happen at the desk. They bloom in the in-betweens, the lounge, the café, the open corners where conversations stretch and laughter lingers. Our lounge and common area seating is crafted to bring comfort and craft together, Italian design woven with the durability that everyday spaces demand.

Because in the village, every chair has a story and every story deserves a seat.

Where craft meets capability.

Inside our factory, state-of-the-art CNC machines work alongside skilled hands to cut fabric, vinyl, leather, and wood with precision. We build all our soft seating frames in-house, to order, so we can promise something rare in our industry: faster lead times, better prices, and truly custom solutions.

*More than 40 years later,
our values haven't changed.*

We still design with the same dedication, passion, and productivity that shaped us in the beginning. For us, excellence means more than making a chair, it means enhancing every customer and user experience through innovations in safety, comfort, and design. We imagine where each piece will live and how it will serve the space, then work with designers, architects, and end users to bring that vision to life.

Our signature is in every seat.

Borgo seating is an expression of Italian philosophy and design, paired with North American ingenuity and responsive customization. Every project we take on is a showcase of who we are: a small but mighty village of makers, crafting joy one stitch at a time.
